

I can honestly say that I would recommend Dual Construction to anyone who was looking for someone to do their Building requirements for them.

I was sitting in the same position just a year ago not knowing who to approach to do major alterations to my house. On the recommendation of a friend I approached and met with Gavin to discuss my needs. His helpfulness and openness to different ideas was very refreshing, and I always found both he and Tony to be very accommodating.

The standard of building was excellent, and their approach to detail was 100%. I think what struck me the most was the fact that everyday as I got home from work you would not have said that there were builders around as there was never any rubble or rubbish lying around. I can honestly say that they were a pleasure to have on sight, and more so as they were on time with their expected date of completion.

From this, you will gather that "Dual Construction" comes highly recommended.
